

Make brief notes of the interesting things you want to mention

Don't write out your talk

Never memorize a talk word for word

Fill your talk with illustrations and examples

Know far more about your subject than you can use

Rehearse your talk by conversing with friends

Instead of worrying about your delivery, find ways to improve it

Don't imitate others; be yourself