Your Teaching and Pedagogical Considerations response:

Yes, it supports the learning outcomes as it will help instructors to figure out where they need support and then I will be able to better assist them. This will help us to save time in our initial meeting as I will already have an idea on the support the instructor needs.

Your "Interaction" response:

Microsoft Forms will help me gauge where the learners are at with their skills and will also allow them to reflect on this. We will be able to collect and analyze the data as well to see if there are any trends. Interactions will happen after this self assessment piece is complete. By completing the Form, instructors may be prompted with ideas on how to collect feedback in their own courses.

Your "Organisational Issues" response:

- Our institution provides resources, workshops and 1on1 appointments for using technology
  - There are certain technologies that are supported and some do need to follow the standard practice and procedures but faculty are encouraged to try new things as well that can be integrated with what is already supported and being used.

Your "Networking" response:

Everyone with the link will have access to completing the Form. Networking is not required at this stage but if an instructor wants to use Forms themselves they can collaborate. Forms can be embedded making them easy to respond to and responses can also be shared with others via a link.

---

Your Security and Privacy response:

The Form can be completed anonymously but I would want to know who completed the Form so I would know how to best help the individual person. If there was a concern around privacy I would contact our Privacy Officer.
