

I would not limit myself to any Creative Commons image search.

We could choose between:

- a) Creative Commons Search
- b) MediaWiki Commons
- c) Flickr Creative Commons
- d) Unsplash
- e) Pixabay

I chose Pixabay because I had to use the fewest Boolean Operators.

By coincidence, I thought of motorcycle passengers and typed the word “pillion” knowing that I could get motorcycle pillions and horse pillions. Horse pillion is kind of an outdated term nowadays and I found that Pixabay had the newest photos with the least need for Boolean Operators.

But like I said earlier, the more Creative Commons image searches I know, the better.
