

activities and tech that can help students understand and utilize the information that I present. It difficult to choose ones that can reach a variety of students and meet the learning outcomes!

Anonymous 1m

Social Isolation

I am a fan of social inclusion, especially in healthcare based professions where independent learning and objective completion is beginning to overtake the idea of group projects. My challenge is find a way to overcome social isolation that tends to come with with virtual learning.

Anonymous

Helping students understand of grammar

I teach uni French grammar classes generally of student French background students with French in their background. Both groups have a weak understanding of grammar and seeing the communicative grammatical sentences challenge students unless they need the grammar. For challenge, defining French in concrete manners. For grammar to the thought listing steps. Each step