

My metaphor for teaching is “Coach”

Coaches change lives, they inspire participants to excel, and they lead while building leaders.

The metaphor from the University of Waterloo list that resonated with me the most was “Travel Guide”.

I assist people along the path of learning. I can provide them with the tools, I can assist them to use those tools and we can take the trip together.

Coach Mars | woodleywonderworks | Flickr