

I have found the following three resources, searching eCampus Ontario Open Educational Resources (OER) engine that could greatly benefit my writing and communications courses. The first two are books, suitable as supplementary resources for both my Reason and Writing and Professional Communications courses. As for the third resource, it could be a good supplementary resource to my writing course, as sometimes I have students who are interested in improving their English using the online language learning option. Even though the resource is designed for CLB levels 1-4, I am sure some of my students can benefit from it to not only improve their English level but also learn about Canadian culture.

1. Professional Communications OER: Module 1 – Foundations

<https://openlibrary.ecampusontario.ca/item-details/#/85d35764-9f43-4525-97abc923dbbbf8ca?k=writing%20argumentative%20essays&itemTypes=6&itemTypes=12&sortCol=1&openLibraryItemTypes=Assessment>

2. Academic Writing Basics By Megan Robertson

<https://openlibrary.ecampusontario.ca/item-details/#/0148538b-53df-4deb-8a2b-542bb53bb969?k=writing%20argumentative%20essays&itemTypes=6&itemTypes=12&sortCol=1>

3. Online Digital English Language Learning Objects (ODELLO) by Amit Dahan, Patricia Glogowski, Brett Reynolds and Pegah Soltani

<https://openlibrary.ecampusontario.ca/item-details/#/0e3053ae-d3f1-4603-adb8-e412d5fbe084?k=writing%20argumentative%20essays&itemTypes=6&itemTypes=12&sortCol=1&openLibraryItemTypes=Assessment>